

Policy for the future:

Tokyo Century Group recognizes that addressing environmental issues is a key management concern and will seek to contribute to the creation of an environmentally sound, sustainable economy and society by acting with due consideration for environmental issues, such as preventing environmental pollution, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, mitigating and adapting to the effects of climate change, and preserving biodiversity and ecosystems in all areas of its operating activities.

Activities

Activities to increase positive impacts on biodiversity

Hotel Business

Active use of trees that have reached the end of their harvesting season, replanting of trees transplanted during construction, and green conservation through new afforestation, etc.

Donation-Type Corporate PPA Service

Donations to forests that have disappeared due to natural disasters and to organizations involved in forest conservation/reforestation activities.

Donations & Volunteer Activities

Other donations and volunteer activities leading to the biodiversity conservation.

Activities to reduce negative impacts on biodiversity

Environmental and Social Management Policy for Financing and Investment Activity

Management philosophy of “contributing to the realization of an environmentally friendly, recycling-oriented economy and society” to enhance our sustainable corporate value by solving social issues.

Biomass Power Generation of Local Production for Local Consumption

Reduce GHG emissions from fuel transportation by utilizing local forest resources and wood chips as fuel.

Targets for Addressing the Plastics Problem

Emission Reduction Targets for plastic products that affect the marine environment, including ecosystems.